

Why Choose Jayda Wood?

An agent with a long family history in the area, Jayda is a scrupulous agent who makes sure that every possible detail of a property is discovered and revealed. Her 20+ years selling real estate in this valley, along with her lifetime residency, gives her a wide range of local knowledge that comes in very handy when working with even the most complicated country properties. With a focus and determination, she has been known to research and settle many uncommon “bumps in the road” that have come her way over the years.

Her buyers can expect to know every “in and out” of their new purchase, both big and small. With a protective inclination, her clients can be assured that her main focus is to have all the stones unturned for full transparency of your purchase.
